What Can BSS Do For You?

BSS offers training in proactive approaches in the management of behaviour that challenges within a variety of care, support and education settings. We also provide training in personal safety and lone working.

Our ethos is person centred to meet the needs of individuals to prevent the occurrence of challenging behaviour in the first instance. We prioritise early intervention and the use of calming techniques including physical intervention and protection techniques where required as a last resort.

☑️ BSS Training is accredited by BILD Physical Intervention Accreditation Scheme

Our Instructor Trainers have direct experience of working in a number of different care, support and education settings.

☑️ All training is considered as best practice and meets the requirements of inspection agencies in relation to the safe management of challenging behaviour.

What Courses Do We Offer?

BSS 2 day Proactive Training Course:
This course gives a good introduction into how responding proactively to behaviour can reduce the impact and frequency of incidents. It is primarily aimed at support and education staff who work with people within a number of different settings. This training may also include instruction of physical intervention and protection techniques if appropriate.

BSS Instructors Training Course:
Intensive training in the presentation of proactive approaches including behaviour analysis, calming techniques, legislation, physical interventions and protection techniques. Successful completion of this 4 day course will enable staff to become instructors and deliver the two day proactive course referred to above within their own organisation.

Instructors must attend an annual one day re-certification session. This enables them to provide annual refresher and updates to staff previously trained in BSS proactive approaches on their two day course.

BSS Personal Safety & Lone Working Course:
This can be delivered as a one day course to your staff by BSS or we can train instructors within your organisation over two days. This will enable them to deliver the one day course to others. Where necessary, this training may be extended to two days to include de-escalation, breakaway techniques and safe holds.

BSS Clinical Interventions Training Courses:
The BSS clinical interventions training is being developed to meet the needs of staff supporting people or patients who are unable to cope in situations where essential treatment may have to be carried out e.g. people having blood taken or people undergoing dental procedures.
